

Smart RC Cracker

Even in this technological age, most of our learning is a result of poring over textbooks and classroom notes. The written word remains a powerful instrument for spreading education and literacy to the farthest corners of our country. However, reading in itself is insufficient to garner knowledge, since reading without comprehension is just a waste of time. All educational institutions want to ascertain that the students they take under their wings are capable of actually understanding what they are being taught in their course material.

Smart RC Cracker (SRCC) is a tailor-made product for students who want to imbibe the ins and outs of Reading Comprehension and become adept at applying shortcuts and using options to arrive at answers quickly. The module teaches methods of attempting questions while at the same time giving the student a rerun through key concepts. In addition to the conventional methods, students will learn how to crack questions with aptitude. It helps a student to improve his speed and, consequently, his performance across various management entrance exams such as CAT, XAT, IIFT, CMAT, SNAP, NMAT etc.

SRCC consists of 32 sessions which capture the teachings of prominent experts of the field of aptitude testing. Each virtual class has an eclectic mix of 4-6 questions culled from past iterations of management entrance exams, as well as questions made from scratch by our own in-house experts and content team. The meticulously selected questions in these modules give a flavour of actual exam questions and cover topics like Art, Culture, Philosophy, Sociology and Business.

The sessions have been planned in such a way so as to cater to the specific requirements of students seeking to improve their existent knowledge even when under severe time constraints. Those who are taking another attempt at MBA entrance exams to improve upon their past performances will also benefit tremendously from these classes and post-exercises. A student can review the session any number of times and at any time suitable to him. The sessions have to be taken within a time frame to ensure discipline. These students generally would not want to waste their time in traveling and attending a large number of sessions, which cover those fundamentals that are already known to them.

To reinforce the concepts you have just learned, we have supplied post-lesson exercises to give you ample practice for similar kinds of questions. It is essential to go through each of the questions in the post-exercises diligently so that you identify which concepts you need to revise. Having tested your learning, revisit the session and cement your concepts.
